

A new service to their rapidly growing clientele, the Royale Cleaners of 1344 Post Avenue have placed in service a new, modern pick-up and delivery truck. "This has been established," said Harry Moritz, owner, "for our many friends who find it inconvenient to bring in and pick-up their clothes." It was pointed out that this new truck was indicative of the rapid growth of the Royale Cleaners as the favorite dry cleaning establishment of people who demand fine dry cleaning service. Council Urged To Ban All But Priority Building

Torrance's City Council had another problem tossed into its lap recently when Lawrence C. Stevens, state director of veterans affairs, urged all California cities and counties to adopt local ordinances restricting the issuance of building permits to holders of veterans HH priorities or construction permits issued by the Civilian Production Administration.

"By refusing to authorize construction which has not been approved under the veterans emergency housing program, local communities can be of tremendous assistance in making critical materials and labor available for construction of the thousands of additional veterans' homes urgently needed in California," Stevens said. Several communities already have taken such action. Fresno, for instance, has adopted "an emergency measure for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety." The state provides that:

"... For a period of ninety days from and after the date of the passage of this ordinance, no permit shall be issued for the erection or construction of any commercial or industrial building or structure without satisfactory evidence that such person has procured a priority for such erection or construction from the CPA, or a priority from the FHA if the building or structure is for a dwelling, if such priorities or either thereof are required by any Federal law, regulation or order."

The City of Sacramento imposed similar restrictions through a resolution of the City Council requiring "reliable evidence" of approval by the appropriate Federal agency prior to issuance of a building permit.

Christmas Tree Haulers To Be Checked

In an effort to prevent wholesale waste of thousands of unsold Christmas trees on retail lots in California this year as was experienced during the 1945 Christmas season, State Forester DeWitt Nelson said from his headquarters in Sacramento that public forestry agencies, in cooperation with the California Highway Patrol and the State Department of Agriculture's order checking stations, will this year rigidly enforce existing laws pertaining to the cutting and transporting of Christmas trees.

Nelson explained that the law requires all persons cutting or transporting trees, whether for commercial purposes or for home use, to have in possession at all times a notarized permit from the land owner from whose property the trees were cut indicating that the trees were obtained legally and with the permission of the land owner. This permit is necessary both for the individual actually cutting the trees and for those transporting the trees to the market, whether cut from private or government-owned lands, Nelson said, and unless truckers can produce a suitable permit showing legal right of possession loads will be detained or even confiscated at one of many checking stations to be established by the State Division of Forestry during November and December.

THINK IT OVER
By Oden & Humphrey!

LEADERS WERE SLAVE LABOR

Our bodies may be fettered, but as long as our minds are free we will never become slave labor to any man.

The man who studies when his contemporaries waste their time in sensuous pleasures will rise like an ascending star. The man who saves his money for some more desirable object later on achieves his goal. He is the man we call selfmade.

It is he that wore the shackles of denial, then proudly cast them off.

A so-called "slave" was George Hornel. He built a fortune with his hands. Though he self-denial, and courage, Epictetus was another "slave"; the product of his mind is a torch for us today; Booker T. Washington was the son of a slave; his memorial a college for colored men—will live as long as men breathe free air.

The man who accepts his servitude without hope is a slave to himself and no one else.

A flating to us is more than a catalogue of sticks, stones and boards. We think of it as a home someone will enjoy; that is one reason we sell as many properties as we do.

This is just one of many reasons for giving Oden & Humphrey your listing of your home.
